Riverhead Building Supply Expands in Nassau and Suffolk Counties

Calverton, NY – January 5, 2016: Riverhead Building Supply today announced plans to expand their footprint by acquiring certain assets of Nassau Suffolk Lumber and Thurber Lumber. When completed, Riverhead Building Supply will add three full-service lumberyard locations in Long Island, NY: Locust Valley, Huntington, and Port Jefferson; and a kitchen cabinet showroom in Bohemia.

John Callahan, President of Riverhead Building Supply, explained that the philosophy and integrity of the owners of the participating entities made this an easy decision: “Nassau Suffolk Lumber and Thurber Lumber are strong independents whose focus on delivering great customer service dovetails perfectly with our commitment to our customers’ success. These are respected family businesses with good, experienced people. We look forward to meeting new customers as we explore new opportunities together.”

The deal is expected to close in February 2016. Stores will open as Riverhead Building Supply with minimal disruption in service to customers.

Riverhead Building Supply is a family-owned and -operated independent retail lumber and building materials dealer. The company operates 9 stores and 4 showrooms on Long Island, and 2 stores and 2 showrooms in Rhode Island, and is the exclusive manufacturer of Heritage Wide Plank Flooring & Millwork. In business for over 65 years, the company continues to expand to provide the best quality products, services and craftsmanship to the area’s residential construction professionals.
